

FIRE DESTROYS NEVADA GRAIN DOCKS

Port Costa is Visited by a Million Dollar Conflagration

Was Erected in 1884 and Was Shipping Point for California and Oregon Grain.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Two thousand feet of the Nevada grain docks at Port Costa, where all the grain of California and Oregon is shipped for transport by sea, was destroyed by fire tonight. Nine hundred tons of wheat, 100 tons of hops and several cars of loaded wheat, lumber and structure where the grain was graded was also burned. The loss is estimated at nearly a million dollars. The cause of the fire is unknown. The steamers at the docks and the engines in the railroad yards were combined to fight the flames and save the plant of the Associated Oil company where thousands of gallons of oil were stored. The heat was so great that the rails of the southern Pacific main line warped and twisted, stalling the Owl and the Fresno local until new rails were placed. The docks were built in 1884 and millions of bushels of grain have been loaded for foreign ports and New York here.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF ANDREW JOHNSON

(By Associated Press.)
GRENEVILLE (Tenn.), May 31.—Scattered over the green sward in and surrounding the National cemetery, which, for the past forty years, has served as a resting place for the body of Andrew Johnson, the seventeenth president of the United States, thousands of the descendants of his old time neighbors and friends in east Tennessee today took advantage of the first memorial celebration since the transformation of the private cemetery into national institution to do honor to the memory of the former distinguished citizen by organizing the Andrew Johnson Memorial association.

The people came from all portions of the vast and picturesque east Tennessee country, and while most of them were of the present day generation, there were some old timers who boasted of having known the Tennessee commoner in his day, and who spoke of the fact with much pride. The orator of the occasion, Martin W. Littleton, came all the way from New York to speak in terms of highest eulogy of the one president, who during his term of office, was tried on impeachment charges.

Mr. Littleton is a native of east Tennessee, and he expressed high appreciation of the honor conferred upon him in making him the orator of the occasion. He reviewed at great length the life of the distinguished man in whose honor the people had assembled, and predicted that the day would come when the entire country would be pleased to do homage to the memory of Andrew Johnson.

The place at which the celebration was held was on the edge of the city burial place, which, a year or two ago, was purchased by the government and has since been made into a national cemetery. It is a beautiful spot just outside of the town in which, for several years in his early life, Mr. Johnson worked as a tailor. It is splendidly cared for and commands a fine view of the mountain range which separates Mr. Johnson's adopted state from North Carolina, the state in which he was born. Many visitors came from the outside and the residents found especial pleasure in pointing out the still preserved sign of "Andrew Johnson, Tailor," which continues to decorate one of the humblest buildings here. The people also manifested much pride in the fact, that notwithstanding the almost successful effort to forcibly eject Mr. Johnson from the White House, the private cemetery, in which he is buried, is the first of such cemeteries to be given a national character by congress.

Among those present and participating in the proceedings was Hon. Walter P. Brownlow, member of congress from this district, himself a near relative of the late Parson Brownlow. Mr. Johnson's most distinguished compeer, Mr. Brownlow was largely responsible for the creation of the national cemetery, and while he occupied no assigned part on today's program was by common consent awarded a position of general prominence.

In addition to Mr. Littleton's speech, the program consisted of the signing of "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner," by a choir of 200 voices; an invocation by Rev. John S. Eakin, and the introduction of Mr. Littleton by Hon. James C. Park, closing with the organization of the memorial association. There was a notable orchestra in attendance, several members of which were old-time fiddlers, who had furnished music at the political gatherings during the notable Johnson-Gentry campaign for governor before the Civil war. Many of them were in reminiscent mood, and between tunes manifested great willingness to entertain visitors with stories of the dim and distant past.

Altogether it was a memorable day for Greneville, and visitors generally voted that they had been well entertained.

PLAINTIFF IS GIVEN VERDICT FOR $25,245

DAYTON (Nev.), May 31.—The jury, which for the past nine weeks has been hearing evidence in the case of McCloud vs. the Pacific Livestock company and Miller and Lux, this morning brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $25,245. This is considered quite a victory for the plaintiff, who sued for $48,000.

In this case the plaintiff sued for damages to his ranches due to the flooding of the ranches by the building of a dam by the defendants in the Walker river, which caused the water to back up and flood the land. Mack and Green and C. H. Miller appeared for the plaintiff, and Cheney, Massey and Price, and Treadwell and Treadwell, of San Francisco, appeared for the defendant.

Sheriff Howard with forty-five deputies is at the scene, but is facing heavy odds as there are 600 strikers.

COUNT ZEPPELINS AIRSHIP MEETS WITH A DISASTER

While Landing the Huge Machine is Blown Against a Tree and is Completely Wrecked

(By Associated Press.)
GOEPFINGEN, May 31.—Count Zeppelin's airship met with a disaster today after having been in the air over forty hours and covered about 850 miles. On the return trip from Bitterfeld, where he turned and headed south again, he endeavored to land in a field near here and crashed into a tree. A strong breeze has sprung up tonight, increasing the danger and further injury of the big flying machine. He was making a landing for the purpose of taking water and fuel when a sudden strong puff of wind swept the ship into the tree with a terrific force. The prow was bent up at right angles and the aluminum stays are twisted and are a mass of wreckage. Zeppelin landed and hurried to town in an automobile and telegraphed for workmen. A great crowd assembled to gaze at the injured vessel blocking the public highways so vehicles were unable to pass. It is believed the repairs will take six weeks.

MILLERS HAS BASEBALL GAME ON SUNDAY

MARRIED MEN AND SINGLE MEN CROSS BATS IN EXCITING CONTEST.

An exciting game of baseball was played on Recreation grounds at Millers Sunday afternoon at 2:30, between two nines of picked men—married men on one side and single men on the other—resulted in a victory for the unmarried nine by a score of 16 to 5.

The forfeit played for was, that the defeated nine was to go without supper that evening.

One of the ladies present, who is a great enthusiast on the game, stated, after the exciting contest was over, that if George Spitzer, who pitched for the married men, had not played such poor ball, the laurels would have rested on the brows of the benedicts; be this as it may, "handsome" George was caught eating a box of strawberries in his wood shed that evening in lieu of his supper.

The rooters were out in force, but the ladies seemed to be giving the largest share of their applause to the victorious candidates for matrimonial honors.

The boys at Millers are practicing hard every evening, and are itching to cross bats with either Tonopah or Goldfield in the near future.

$300 ROCK STRUCK IN PIONEER LEASE

RHYOLITE, May 31.—The winze on the Pioneer lease has exposed within the last few shifts, a body of ore that surpasses the most sanguine of signs for that wonderful acreage. Developments here have raised the actual value of the lease ten fold during the last seventy-two hours. The entire bottom of the winze sacks up at around $300 per ton, and only the footwall in sight.

The strike was made three days ago. Values began to be sensational at that time and have been improving steadily with every shot since that time. The winze is now down about forty feet. This makes a total depth of the workings from daylight of 250 feet. As a matter of tons and dollars it is far and away the greatest find yet made; but of even more importance is its position—in the very depth of the lowest level under development.

Values have jumped during the last week from $25 to over $300 in the same strata with additional depth. An electric hoist is expected to arrive today for service at the collar of the winze. With this equipment vigorous and effective work will be inaugurated in attaining greater depth. About thirty tons of this grade was taken out by hand yesterday and today.

In the older workings of the property the same stoping and blocking out methods are being pursued. The mammoth stopes on the 210-foot level has improved in value during the last week. It is authoritatively stated that this extent of ore is breaking down better than $50 to the ton in value. About sixty men are working, mostly in the 210-foot level and below.
